HABEAS CORPUS New Attractions FOR A FUGITIVE

Bowers Doesn't Like lowa.

Has Employed an Attorney and Will Resist Extradition.

Left Home While Under Bond, and Was Picked Up in Salt

Petition for release on a writ of habeas corpus was filed in Judge Lewis's court yesterday by Linn Bowers, for whom a warrant was issued by Gov. Wells upon requisition of the Governor of Iowa. Hearing on the petition was continued until today at 2 p. m. Guilty of Felony.

Bowers is said to be a fugitive from justice, it being alleged that he pleaded guilty to a felony at Mt. Pleasant, Ia., was released upon his own recogni-zance and, when wanted by the court was missing. He was located here and arrested a week ago by the police department of this city, having since been seld awaiting requisition papers from

BURGLED WHILE DRUNK.

Gallagher Was Therefore Given Only Two Years in the Penitentiary.

Joseph Gallagher, accused of breaking into a store at 402 West Second South street on May 17 last, was yesterday found guilty of attempted bur-glary by a jury in Judge Lewis's court. He was sentenced to serve a term of two years in State's prison. The evi-dence showed that the defendant was drunk at the time the alleged crime was committed, and, as the intent to surgiarize was not absolutely clear, a light sentence was imposed.

Court Notes.

Suit to determine the interest of defendant in part of lot 6, block 32, plat A, was brought in the District court yesterday by K. L. Burnham against J. M. Stoutt et al. The plaintiff holds a judgment against the defendant for the rum of $6332.75, and it is alleged that the real estate in question was purchased by the defendant and placed in the name of Adaline Stoutt for the purpose of defending the plaintiff cred-

Electrical Fountain and Diving Horses Will Be Novelties in Utah.

The Utah State fair has several new attractions which have not been mentioned. One of the most beautiful is the electrical fountain. This will be a superb display of colored lights, with a living picture in the center. The latter will be represented by some of the prettiest maids procurable. The lights will be arranged to produce the effect of water and the living pictures will be posed to imitate the statues surmounting the most beautiful fountains.

A saddling paddock will be a welcome innovation to horsemen at the fair Heretofore it has been necessary to lead horses back to the stables between heats, but the new arrangement will make this loss of time unnecessary.

Diving Horses.

One of the most interesting attrac-tions of the fair will undoubtedly be the diving horses, Powder Face and Cupid, who are said to make their fa-mous leap into a pool of water evidently of their own volition and with consid erable enjoyment. A graphic descrip-tion of their performance comes from Atlanta, Ga.

"The diving horses at the fair made a great hit yesterday afternoon on their first appearance in the wonderful performance of leaping headlong through forty feet of space and plunging into a pool of eleven feet of water.

"Cupld and Powder Face, the intelfigent pony stars in the performance, were led out in the paddock to the base of the tower from which the thrilling dive is made. Dr. W. F. Carver, who has the management of the per-formance, walked beside the horses and talked with them just as though they were human beings. He says they un-derstand every word he speaks to them and the statement is not hard to believe after seeing the remarkable intel-ligence displayed by the ponies in the act that follows

Animals Leap Into Water.

"Powder Face, the black, makes the first leap. He ascends the long incline leading to the top of the tower in a trot. It is worth the gate money simply to see the horse go up the long gangway, which is but a ladder in real-ity. Once on the platform at the top of the tower. Powder Face pauces and looks down into the pool far below. Dr Carver, who has followed to the top, speaks to him.
"Well, Powder Pace, are you going to keep us waiting all day? he said.

"As if in direct answer to the question, and while the spectators hold their breath in anxiety and excitement. Pow-der Face gathers all four feet together at the edge of the platform, lifts the front feet over and begins to slide unti-he is hanging head down over the poowith his hindfeet still touching the platform. The pliding motion is not discontinued, however, for when the horse really begins to fall he kicks out his rear feet, strikes them against the boards just below the edge of the platform, and then comes hurtling down head first into the pool.

"Once in the pool, the horse rises to the surface, shakes the water from his eyes and begins to swim out, lashing and churning the water into a boiling foam with his powerful hoof strokes. On the bank he is met by friendly hands which help him into his warm blanket and lead him off to the stables.

Enjoys Entire Act.

"Cupid, the bay, has more of a clown act. He displays more intelligence than Powder Face, for he shows every indication of enjoyment throughout the en tire act. When he is at the top of the tower he looks at the pool first and then at the spectators in the grandstand. Dr. Carver admonishes him for the dilatory fashion he assumes in his work "'Cupid, go on,' he commands. 'It's cold out here and we want to get through with this."

"Cupid shakes his head and takes an-other look into the pool.

"Till just push you off, then, and ave done with it, said Dr. Carver, "But Cupid lifts his iron hoof when his master approaches. If a horse has reasoning faculties, Cupid, the diving horse, exhibited them vesterday when he bluffed Dr. Carver from pushing blee off the tower. He leaned far over the edge of the platform until he could rethe whole grandstand and then he actually winked at the spectators. The crowd cheered and laughed heartly a

Swims About the Pool.

"Finally, after arguing with Dr Carver in his own convincing fashion. Cupid concludes to take the dive for the fun of the thing, and leaps off in the same manner as Powder Face, exing the descent and he swims about in ne pool before landing." Vice-President MacDonald has gone to Ogden with the object of inducing the officials of the Weber county fair to bring the best of their exhibits to Salt Lake. This would add very much to the interest of the fair.

This afternoon between 3 and 4 o'clock a parade will pass through the principal streets to advertise the fair.

The diving horses, Powder Face and Cupid, will be among the attractions. There also will be a band for the pleasure of the listeners, and for the boys to follow. The headquarters of the fair committee will move to the grounds to-day and all business relating to the fair hereafter be transacted on
